Open Educational Resources
Print, Audio and Video production Permission Request

The SCOOTER project (Sickle Cell Open – Online Topics and Educational Resources) at De Montfort University is being funded by the Joint Information Systems Committee (JISC) and Higher Education Academy (HEA) to prepare digital open learning resources as part of a National move to make teaching materials freely available and more accessible via the internet. SCOOTER will release a range of materials on the subject of Sickle Cell and Thalassemia mainly aimed at university education. These materials will be available on a project website and other repositories.
